Sprint 2 Report - VoiceToText - EK Health - June 3, 2016

Actions to stop doing:
- The team needs to stop postponing presentation practice to the last minute or till the last few days.
- The team needs to stop missing practice dates for presentation. It is important to work on the delivery of the presentation.

Actions to start doing:
- The team needs to start organizing the iOS and Android projects for final push onto Github.
- The team needs to make sure the code is properly commented in case the project is used for reference for future development.
- The team needs to remove commented code, and continue code clean-up. There is some extra source code from an older version of the application in the project and it needs to be removed for a clean final submission. We kept the file til now because it had implementation code that was needed for the newer version.

Actions to keep doing:
- The team needs to continue testing and make sure all the modules are working before the final push to the GitHub repository. The team needs to ensure that the latest build of the application is functional without any crashes.

User Stories Completed:
1. [6] As software engineers, we need to clean up all the code on both iOS and Android versions.
2. [30] As software engineers, we need to continue working on the last views (Add Note and Notes Detail) and finish the UI completely.
3. [44] As a team, we want to practice the presentation of our application.
4. [20] As a team, we need to finalize our poster, and send it to Linda for printing.
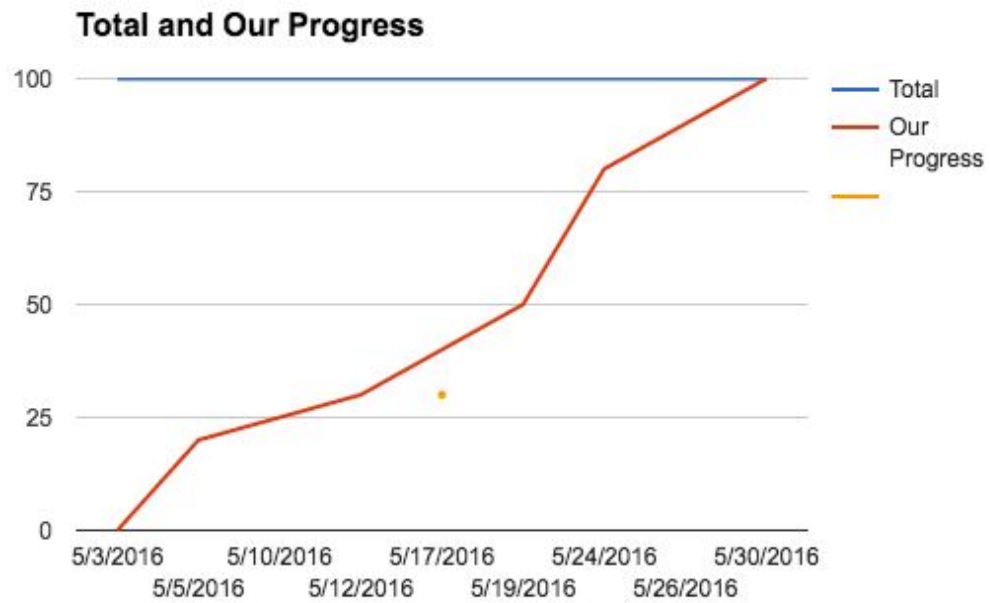

User Stories Not Completed
None. We completed all our user stories.

Work Completed Rate:
We roughly completed 101/106 story points in sprint 2 and sprint 1 combined. The sprint was 4 weeks long, and we had a total of 4 user stories. We finished all 4 user stories completely. This means we completed about 100% of our user stories for this sprint. For release 2, we completed about 95% of the user stories this quarter.
